2 An Act to amend and reenact §§ 20-91 and 20-95 of the Code of Virginia, relating to divorce; adultery;
 3 filing; parties living separate and apart.

4 [H 1775]

5 Approved

6 Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia:7 1. That §§ 20-91 and 20-95 of the Code of Virginia are amended and reenacted as follows:8 § 20-91. Grounds for divorce from bond of matrimony; contents of decree.

9 A. A divorce from the bond of matrimony may be decreed:

10 (1) For adultery that occurred prior to the final separation of the parties; or for sodomy or buggery
 11 committed outside the marriage;

12 (2) [Repealed.]

13 (3) Where either of the parties subsequent to the marriage has been convicted of a felony, sentenced to 14 confinement for more than one year and confined for such felony subsequent to such conviction, and 15 cohabitation has not been resumed after knowledge of such confinement (in which case no pardon granted to 16 the party so sentenced shall restore such party to his conjugal rights);

17 (4), (5) [Repealed.]

18 (6) Where either party has been guilty of cruelty, caused reasonable apprehension of bodily hurt, or 19 willfully deserted or abandoned the other, such divorce may be decreed to the innocent party after a period of 20 one year from the date of such act; or

21 (7), (8) [Repealed.]

22 (9) (a) On the application of either party if and when they have lived separate and apart without any 23 cohabitation and without interruption for one year. In any case where the parties have entered into a 24 separation agreement and there are no minor children either born of the parties, born of either party and 25 adopted by the other or adopted by both parties, a divorce may be decreed on application if and when they 26 have lived separately and apart without cohabitation and without interruption for six months. A plea of res
 27 adjudicata or of recrimination with respect to any other provision of this section shall not be a bar to either 28 party obtaining a divorce on this ground; nor shall it be a bar that either party has been adjudged insane,
 29 either before or after such separation has commenced, but at the expiration of one year or six months, 30 whichever is applicable, from the commencement of such separation, the grounds for divorce shall be deemed 31 to be complete, and the committee of the insane defendant, if there ~~be~~ is one, shall be made a party to the 32 cause, or if there ~~be~~ is no committee, then the court shall appoint a guardian ad litem to represent the insane
 33 defendant.34 (b) This subdivision (9) shall apply whether the separation commenced prior to its enactment or shall 35 commence thereafter. Where otherwise valid, any decree of divorce hereinbefore entered by any court having 36 equity jurisdiction pursuant to this subdivision (9), not appealed to the Supreme Court of Virginia, is hereby 37 declared valid according to the terms of said decree notwithstanding the insanity of a party thereto.38 (c) A decree of divorce granted pursuant to this subdivision (9) shall in no way lessen any obligation any 39 party may otherwise have to support the spouse unless such party shall prove that there exists in the favor of 40 such party some other ground of divorce under this section or § 20-95.41 B. A decree of divorce shall include each party's social security number or other control number issued by 42 the Department of Motor Vehicles pursuant to § 46.2-342.43 § 20-95. Grounds for divorces from bed and board.44 A divorce from bed and board may be decreed for cruelty, reasonable apprehension of bodily hurt, willful 45 desertion ~~or~~, abandonment, or on the application of either party upon the parties living separate and apart
 46 with the intent of at least one of the parties to remain separate and apart permanently. No waiting period is 47 required for the filing of a divorce from bed and board pursuant to this section, but such divorce may be 48 decreed only in accordance with the provisions of § 20-91.
