RESOLVED by the House of Delegates, That the Speaker of the House of Delegates be directed to order a study of the legal effects and consequences of a constitutional amendment enshrining a right to reproductive freedom. Such study shall consider whether the phrase "An individual's right to reproductive freedom shall not be, directly or indirectly, denied, burdened, or infringed upon unless justified by a compelling state interest achieved by the least restrictive means" would apply to the umbilical cord and placenta, and if so, whether this language would (i) constitutionally protect abortion throughout all of pregnancy; (ii) legally permit partial birth infanticide or any other crime, including born-alive murder, child pornography, sexual assault, and injury, after complete extraction or expulsion from the mother so long as the umbilical cord is attached; and (iii) create a constitutional right for the parents of any born-alive or unborn child who is killed to subsequently sell the dead child's body parts.
