WHEREAS, under Joe Face's leadership, the Bureau of Financial Institutions provided valuable consumer protection by ensuring that loan companies and mortgage brokers operated fairly with borrowers and that bank and credit unions safely maintained their deposits; and

WHEREAS, Joe Face has been an influential advocate for the dual banking system and for greater coordination between state banking agencies, serving as chair of the Conference of State Banking Supervisors from 2006 to 2007 and representing state regulators on committees and groups, such as the Federal Financial Institution Examination Council and the Financial Crimes Enforcement Network's Bank Secrecy Act Advisory Group; and
