251 than a bathroom for the expression of breast milk, acquisition or modification of equipment or access to or 252 modification of employee seating, a temporary transfer to a less strenuous or hazardous position, assistance
253 with manual labor, job restructuring, a modified work schedule, light duty assignments, and leave to recover
254 from childbirth.

256 B. No employer shall:

257 1. Refuse to make reasonable accommodation to the known limitations of a person related to pregnancy, 258 menopause or perimenopause, childbirth, or related medical conditions, unless the employer can demonstrate 259 that the accommodation would impose an undue hardship on the employer.

260 a. In determining whether an accommodation would constitute an undue hardship on the employer, the 261 following shall be considered:

262 (1) Hardship on the conduct of the employer's business, considering the nature of the employer's 263 operation, including composition and structure of the employer's workforce and the financial resources of the 264 employer;

266 (3) The difficulty, nature, and cost of the accommodations needed.

269 hardship on the employer.

270 2. Take adverse action against an employee who requests or uses a reasonable accommodation pursuant to 271 this section. As used in this subdivision, "adverse action" includes failure to reinstate any such employee to 272 her previous position or an equivalent position with equivalent pay, seniority, and other benefits when her 273 need for a reasonable accommodation ceases.

276 applicant or employee related to pregnancy, menopause or perimenopause, childbirth, or related medical 277 conditions.

278 4. Require an employee to take leave if another reasonable accommodation can be provided to the known 279 limitations related to the pregnancy, menopause or perimenopause, childbirth, or related medical conditions 280 of such employee.

281 C. Each employer shall engage in a timely, good faith interactive process with an employee who has 282 requested an accommodation pursuant to this section to determine if the requested accommodation is 283 reasonable and, if such accommodation is determined not to be reasonable, discuss alternative 284 accommodations that may be provided.

285 D. An employer shall post in a conspicuous location and include in any employee handbook information 286 concerning an employee's rights to reasonable accommodation for known limitations related to pregnancy, 287 menopause or perimenopause, childbirth, or related medical conditions. Such information shall also be 288 directly provided to (i) new employees upon commencement of their employment and (ii) any employee 289 within 10 days of such employee's providing notice to the employer that she is pregnant.

290 E. An employee or applicant who has been denied any of the rights afforded under subsection B may 291 bring an action in a general district or circuit court having jurisdiction over the employer that allegedly denied 292 such rights. Any such action shall be brought within two years from the date of the unlawful denial of rights, 293 or, if the employee or applicant has filed a complaint with the Office of Civil Rights of the Department of 294 Law or a local human rights or human relations agency or commission within two years of the unlawful 295 denial of rights, such action shall be brought within 90 days from the date that the Office or a local human 296 rights or human relations agency or commission has rendered a final disposition on the complaint.

297 If the court or jury finds that an unlawful denial of rights afforded under subsection B has occurred, the 298 court or jury may award to the plaintiff, as the prevailing party, compensatory damages, back pay, and other 299 equitable relief. The court may also award reasonable attorney fees and costs and may grant as relief any 300 permanent or temporary injunction, temporary restraining order, or other order, including an order enjoining 301 the defendant from engaging in such practice, or order such affirmative action as may be appropriate.

302 F. The provisions of this section regarding the provision of reasonable accommodation for known 303 limitations related to pregnancy, menopause or perimenopause, childbirth, and related medical conditions 304 shall not be construed to affect any other provision of law relating to discrimination on the basis of sex or 305 pregnancy.

306 2. That the Commissioner of Labor and Industry, in consultation with the Commissioner of Health, 307 shall conduct a study on menopause and perimenopause in the workforce, menopause-related and

308 perimenopause-related accommodations in employment environments, and the scope of existing 309 menopause-related and perimenopause-related policies, including health insurance coverage and 310 therapeutic treatments for menopause-related and perimenopause-related symptoms, access to health 311 care professionals for menopause-related and perimenopause-related matters, menopause and 312 perimenopause awareness policies, and health care spending accounts that can be used for menopause-
313 related and perimenopause-related benefits and services. In conducting such study, the Commissioners 314 shall develop best practices for menopause-related and perimenopause-related accommodations in 315 employment environments. No later than July 1, 2028, the Commissioners shall submit a report of 316 their findings and recommendations to the Governor and the General Assembly and shall publish such 317 report on the Department of Labor and Industry's website.
