103 § 53.1-154. Times at which Virginia Parole Board to review cases.

104 The Virginia Parole Board shall by regulation divide each calendar year into such equal parts as it may 105 deem appropriate to the efficient administration of the parole system. Unless there be reasonable cause for 106 extension of the time within which to review and decide a case, the Board shall review and decide the case of 107 each prisoner no later than that part of the calendar year in which he becomes eligible for parole, and at least 108 annually thereafter, until he is released on parole or discharged, except that upon any such review the Board 109 may schedule the next review as much as three years thereafter, provided there are ~~ten~~ 10 years or more or 110 life imprisonment remaining on the sentence in such case; however, in the case of those prisoners eligible for 111 parole pursuant to subsection E of § 53.1-165.1, such review shall be conducted annually. Such reviews shall 112 include a live interview of the prisoner by a Board member or a staff member designated by the Board. Such 113 interviews may be conducted in person or by videoconference or telephone at the discretion of the Board.
 114 Absent imminent death of the prisoner or other extraordinary circumstances, which shall be documented by 115 the Board in the prisoner's file, the Board shall not grant parole to any prisoner who has not received a live
 116 interview within the prior calendar year. Notwithstanding any other provision of this article, in the case of a
 117 parole revocation, if such person is otherwise eligible for parole, the Board shall review and decide his case 118 no later than that part of the calendar year one year subsequent to the part of the calendar year in which he

119 was returned to a facility as provided in § 53.1-161. Thereafter, his case shall be reviewed as specified in this 120 section. The Board, in addition, may review the case of any prisoner eligible for parole at any other time and 121 may review the case of any prisoner prior to that part of the year otherwise specified. In the discretion of the 122 Board, interviews may be conducted by the Board or its representatives and may be either public or private.

123 § 53.1-154.2. Parole procedures and considerations for certain juvenile offenders; appeal.

124 A. For the purpose of this section, "juvenile offender" means a prisoner eligible for parole pursuant to 125 subsection E of § 53.1-165.1.

126 B. The Board shall provide a meaningful opportunity to obtain release for juvenile offenders on the basis 127 of demonstrated maturity and rehabilitation and the lesser culpability of juvenile offenders.

128 C. In providing such meaningful opportunity to obtain release, the Board shall give substantial weight to 129 the following when making a determination on whether to grant parole to any juvenile offender: (i) such 130 juvenile offender's demonstrated emotional maturity and reflection, including reflection on his past conduct; 131 (ii) such juvenile offender's maturity of judgment, including improved impulse control, development of 132 prosocial relationships, and independence from negative influences; (iii) such juvenile offender's 133 participation in rehabilitative, treatment, and educational programs while incarcerated, if such programs
 134 were available to him; (iv) such juvenile offender's employment history while incarcerated, if employment 135 opportunities were available to him; (v) any obstacles such juvenile offender may have faced as a juvenile 136 entering an adult correctional facility; (vi) such juvenile offender's institutional conduct while incarcerated, 137 with greater weight given to more recent conduct occurring after he has had time to mature and adjust to 138 prison; (vii) such juvenile offender's occupational skills and employment potential, including his ability and 139 readiness to assume employment-related obligations and responsibilities; (viii) such juvenile offender's 140 reentry plan; and (ix) any other information relevant to such juvenile offender's maturity and rehabilitation.

141 D. The Board shall give substantial mitigating weight to the following factors when making a 142 determination on whether to grant parole to any juvenile offender: (i) the diminished culpability and 143 heightened capacity for change for juveniles as compared to adults; (ii) the hallmark features of juveniles, 144 including immaturity, impetuosity, and limited ability to assess or appreciate risks and consequences; (iii) the 145 age of such juvenile offender at the time of the offense; (iv) whether and to what extent peer or adult pressure
 146 influenced such juvenile offender to commit the offense; (v) such juvenile offender's family and community 147 circumstances at the time of the offense, including any history of abuse, trauma, poverty, and involvement in 148 the child welfare system; and (vi) the lack of ability of such juvenile offender to extricate himself from 149 criminogenic circumstances.

150 E. Under no circumstance shall the Board consider a juvenile offender's age at the time of the offense as 151 an aggravating factor to deny parole. The Board shall give significant consideration to the juvenile offender's 152 ability to change when making a parole consideration.

153 F. A juvenile offender may request for reconsideration or appeal of a decision by the Board not to grant 154 parole based on (i) the Board's failure to give substantial weight to such juvenile offender's age and its 155 related mitigating circumstances as required by this section or (ii) the Board's overreliance on static factors 156 such as the nature and circumstances of the offense and failure to ground its decision in evidence of maturity,
 157 rehabilitation, and a lack of present danger to public safety. The Board shall provide individualized reasons 158 for the grant or denial of parole upon reconsideration or appeal.

159 § 53.1-165.1. Limitation on the application of parole statutes.

160 A. The provisions of this article, except §§ 53.1-160 and 53.1-160.1, shall not apply to any sentence

171 C. The Parole Board shall establish procedures for consideration of parole of persons entitled under 172 subsection B consistent with the provisions of § 53.1-154.

173 D. Any person who meets eligibility criteria for parole under subsection B and pursuant to § 53.1-151 as 174 of July 1, 2020, shall be scheduled for a parole interview no later than July 1, 2021, allowing for extension of 175 time for reasonable cause.

182 accordance with § §§ 53.1-154 and 53.1-154.2 and rules adopted pursuant to subdivision 2 of § 53.1-136.
